

A Carnivore's Inquiry

By Sabina Murray

Grove Press / Atlantic Monthly Press, United States, 2005.
Paperback. Book Condition: New. Reprint. 208 x 137 mm.
Language: English . Brand New Book. Hailed as a cracklingly original, brilliantly conceived modern Gothic by Elle, Sabina Murray's first book since she won the PEN/Faulkner Award for The Caprices is a tour de force of intelligent suspense that seduces us with dark delight in her taboo subject. When we meet Katherine, the winning--and rather disturbing--twenty--three--Year-old narrator, she had just left Italy and arrived in New York City, but what has propelled her there is a mystery. She soon strikes up an affair with a middle-aged Russian emigre novelist she meets on the subway, and almost immediately moves into his apartment. Katherine's occasional allusions to a frighteningly eccentric mother and tyrannical father suggest a somberness at the center of her otherwise flippant and sardonic demeanor. Soon restless, she begins journeying from literary New York to rural Maine and Mexico City, crailed, everywhere she goes, by a string of murders. As the ritualistic killings begin to pile up, Katherine takes to meditating on cannibalism in literature, art, and history, and examining subjects as diverse as the Donner Party, the fall of...
