RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 50 pages. Original publisher: Washington, D. C. : The Office, 1997 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)38588926 Subject: Postal service - United States. Excerpt: . . . Briefing Section I Background The Postal Reorganization Act of 1970 (39 U. S. C. 101 (b)) states that No Statutory Provisions for small post office shall be closed solely for operating at a deficit. . . . In Post Office Closures 1976, Congress amended the act to place a temporary moratorium on further service reductions and specifically prohibited closing post offices that served 35 or more families. While these specific provisions were only temporary, other provisions included in the 1976 amendments, which remain in effect today, affect the Services decisions to close or 7 consolidate post offices. Under the 1970 act as amended, when considering whether to close a post office, the Service must assess the impact on the community served, the postal employees, and the postal services as well as any economic savings to the Postal Service that would result from the closure. The Service must notify affected customers at least 60 days before the proposed date for the closure and provide them with its written proposal and findings. Any person served by the post office involved may file an appeal with the PRC) within 30 days after the Postal independent Postal Rate Commission (Service provides written notice that it proposes to close the post office. 7 A consolidation is the replacement of a post office with a station, branch, or contractor-operated community post office (CPO). Because the amendments provisions on post office closures and related appeals equally apply to post office consolidations, for purposes of this report, all references to a post office closure...
